The people of our town and county have united with our commercial club in contributing liberally to entertain the Louisville Commercial Club next Friday. Miller, John Farra, Hugh Logan and John Stormes on the committee of entertainment, success is assured.

Mr. Crutchfield Henderson, age 70 years, died suddenly at his home near Lowell, Saturday afternoon, having been in poor health for some time. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon and the remains were buried in Paint Lick cemetery in the presence of many friends and relatives. Deceased was one of the worthy and substantial citizens of the county and he belonged to a large and an influential family.

On Friday at 11 o'clock A. M., Mrs. Mary Broadbuss, an estimable lady, died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. R. A. Stone, in this city, in the 68th year of her age. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Saturday by Rev. Coyle and a long procession of relatives and friends followed the remains to Lancaster cemetery for interment. She was a worthy, christian lady and had many friends. She and her husband, Mr. Morton Broadbuss, who survives her, raised several children who are held in the highest esteem by all those with whom they associate.

Capt. Herndon has succeeded in getting the promise of the Irvine Post G. A. R., to bring with them on the 24th, the historic flag, which was the first one planted on Mount Lookout by Capt. Wilson and six men of the 8th Kentucky Infantry, after the "battle above the clouds," a graphic description of which is given in Wright's History of the 8th Ky. It is much worn and tattered and attracted more attention than any object at the National G. A. R. encampment in Washington City in 1892, when it was carried by Capt. Wilson, who has since joined the silent majority.

A liberal reward will be paid to any one who will give a reason why our people should not give the right of way for the extension of the Southern Railroad. A thousand advantages will be derived from making Lancaster a competitive point and the farmer will derive more benefits than town people from the fact that he gets better rates on what he consumes and what he produces while the town man is only benefited on what he consumes. The benefits to the farmer and shipper will soon pay for any reasonable contribution in reduced freight rates, which means better prices for all articles produced, from a turnip to a fatted bullock.

A commendable spirit of patriotism is being manifested by our people preparatory to entertaining the G. A. R., Thursday and Friday. Mr. Flesinger will entertain 200 at the Garrard at $1 per day and families will entertain as many more. The citizens have contributed liberally to the expense fund. Public business and private houses are all being beautifully decorated and all necessary arrangements are being made to make it the greatest event in the history of our city and a pleasant occasion for all visitors. Music, speeches, flowers, flags and everything pleasing to the ear, the eye or the taste will conspire to cause our city to be pleasantly remembered by all who attend.

By the decline in certain grades of lumber J. H. Collier and others will lose heavily. G. W. Singleton, who is just making his first shipment from his mill on Cedar Creek, will catch it also.

Although there are over 3,000 barrels of whisky in J. W. James' warehouse, less than 20 barrels belong to him. The demand for his output is great and he usually sells it before it is made. By the way, it is reported that there are indictments in the U. S. court against both Mr. James and Curtis Gover for shipping whisky C. O. D., to certain mountain counties. They don't seem to be scared, however, as some 20 jugs went up Saturday and it was hardly up to the average day for shipping it.

WINDOW DISPLAY.

AN ATTRACTIVE LOT OF LION COFFEE PREMIUMS IN THOMAS DALTON'S WINDOW.

We frequently hear the claim "something given for nothing," but we do not often see an actual demonstration of the principle like the display of Lion Coffee premiums now on exhibition in Thomas Dalton's window.

Here are many valuable articles, all given free for the lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers. These are not cheap articles, but comprise clocks, umbrellas, watches, gold rings and jewelry, besides many things useful and ornamental in the household, or will be enjoyed by the children. Lion Coffee fully deserves the popularity, which it has gained, because of its superior strength and flavor.

W. F. WALTON.

It is absolutely disgusting to read the proceedings of the late republican convention at Louisville. The grand stand performances of the leaders, Taylor's play for sympathy and the participation of such detestable renegades and sell outs as Bill Yost, Tallow Dick Knott and others of their ilk are enough to make one blush for humanity. It must have been fearfully pathetic to see Taylor, his wife and seven children march down the aisle and to have seen him afterwards do the crocodile act as Bradley told of the alleged outrages that had been inflicted on him. We opine, however, that if Taylor did really shed tears it was because of his own sins and not that of others towards him. Remorse comes to every conscience no matter how dwarfed and seared, and Taylor must have experienced such a moment as he thought of the grand man sent to his untimely grave by his conscience. All the scenes connected with the fearful tragedy, doubtless rushed to his mind and he saw again the bleeding and dying victim of the foulest political conspiracy of the century. He remembered how he shielded the assassin, by preventing a search of the building occupied by himself and the other conspirators, how he "pardoned" men suspected of the crime and attempted to spirit them away disguised as soldiers and protected by a squad sworn to take them to the mountain fastnesses and of how he did other divers and sundry deeds that made the angels weep. No wonder he cried. A savage could not recall such acts and not shed tears. Well might Taylor exclaim, "Oh miserable man that I am, who will deliver me from the body of this death!"

The speeches of those arch traitors, Yost and Knott, pledging their support and allegiance added to the farce-comedy of the whole business, which will be remembered only with disgust. The republican party is sliding down the toboggan to hades and with such welshers as the two named, Breckinridge, Brown, Bruce and others, will soon land with a dull thud at the bottom.

HERE are some choice excerpts from Senator Deboe's remarks while presiding in the republican convention at Louisville: "The convention will set down and be quiet." "I'll not recognize no man until he takes his seat." "It is now moved and seconded that the election of Gov. Taylor and Gov. Bradley be elected unanimous." "You ain't got no right to monkey with Clay county, if you ain't no delegate, and so on and so on. This will do pretty well for the 'per diem, per day' senators, whose ignorance and stupidity have made him famous. Strange to say he didn't even take a short nap, as is his custom in the Senate chamber, but sat through the entire evening, with eyes wide open and green with envy to see his arch enemy triumph over him and regain the leadership of the party."

GOV. BRADLEY has again resumed his leadership of the Kentucky republicans. He was the "Big I Am" of the convention, and is now regarded as the "Moses" of the party. Great efforts are being brought to bear to have him become the candidate for governor, but he declines all overtures to that end. For awhile it looked like the bottom rail was on top, but brains out, weighed in the race for supremacy and Bradley comes to his own again, almost without effort. He will head the delegation to the National convention and dish out Federal pie, while Deboe plays a very weak second fiddle.

WRITING of the term "Goebelism," as offensively used by enemies of the great leader, Mr. Waterson turns his attention in Saturday's Courier-Journal to the class of cattle whodolight in it, and after flaying them alive, pays the highest eulogium to Gov. Goebel, whom he characterizes "as an honest man, a brave and loyal man and a clear, sober, vigorous, hard-working, public-spirited man." Such a man indeed was Goebel. His maligners are not worthy to take his name in the sin polluted lips.

THE republicans said not a word about the assassination in their platform, but Gov. Bradley succeeded after much opposition in getting the following resolution adopted: "We unqualifiedly denounce the assassination of Senator Goebel and pledge ourselves to assist in the detection and the conviction of the assassin." The loud cheering which greeted the reading of the resolution showed how the republicans sympathize with assassination.

GOV. BRADLEY said in his convention speech that with Yost and others whom he named, who had deserted the democratic party, all the brains had departed from it. Nay, nay, Mr. Vice President, you mistake the matter. It is evidently g—t that you mean, especially in the case of Yost.

THE Louisville Dispatch, which subsides only by stirring up strife and making assassination possible, cries out in its editorial of the Courier-Journal's apathy: "There is no peace." Of course as long as the subsidized organs of political trust can raise a row.

THE Ovation Herald, edited by the old Confederate, who used to be as lively as he now does, has enlarged to a six-column broadsheet. It is a credit to any man who saved his tears.

OUR dispatches tell of the decision of the supreme court in favor of the democrats. The court held as all good lawyers said it would that it had no jurisdiction, denied the writ of error and dismissed the appeal. Justice Harlan, of Kentucky, dissented to the opinion, which was handed down by Chief Justice Fuller. Justice McKenna agreed in the conclusion, but dissented from the reasoning and Justices Brewer and Brown held that the court had jurisdiction and affirmed the decision of the Kentucky court. Harlan's opinion reads more like a republican stump speech than a legal document. Taylor was very much depressed on receiving the news, but soon rallied and ordered Gen. Collier to dismiss his soldiers and turn his office over to Gov. Beckham. The Frankfort democrats went wild with delight and later many of them marched to Goebel's tomb and deposited flowers thereon. All the courts have decided for the democrats. Now let us have peace.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, May 21, 1 P. M.—Beckham wins before the supreme court. The Kentucky court of appeals is sustained. C. D. Republicans at Washington are said to have laughed over the lachrymose account of Taylor's performances before the convention at Louisville and one is reported to have said: "He'll have plenty of chance to weep before the State of Kentucky gets through with him, and if there is any truth in the statements of his confederates he will have cause to weep to some purpose."

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Bradley has worked himself back to the head of the republican party of Kentucky, and goes to the National convention at the head of the delegation, with an endorsement for vice president, while Deboe is left at home. Those who were dancing him a year ago are now bowing down to him. He has made many of them eat dirt—Owensboro Messenger.

The following will go as delegates from the 8th district to the Philadelphia convention: D. R. Collier, of Garrard, and Thos. J. Ballard, of Anderson; alternates, John Ballard, of Shelbyville, and Jesse Kincheloe, of Spencer. From the 11th J. A. Coleman, of Palaski, and John B. Hurst, of Harlan; alternates, D. C. Edmunds, of Laurel, and T. S. Scott, of Cumberland.

The presidential elector chosen for this district is J. T. McClintock, of Madison, and M. A. Holcomb for the 11th.

The republican state central committee was reorganized: C. M. Barrett was re-elected chairman and R. L. Gwathmey succeeds K. J. Hampton as secretary. Judge J. H. Tinsley was elected vice chairman. Col. R. F. Buckner was re-elected treasurer.

BEAZLEY & HAYS, the undertakers, give the best of service. Ask the family of W. F. Abraham and others they have served.

FREIGHT comes high now. A. C. Sine received two car loads of lumber, one from Alabama and one from Nashville, on which the freight was $170.00.

Ab Maple, Sam Kirkirk and Robert Burner were arrested at Harrodsburg. They are said to belong to a band of chicken thieves that extends through Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln and other counties, and that the gang has stolen and marketed 5,000 chickens the past five months.

Secure your seat now at W. B. McRoberts.

Your measurement will be taken and you pay to enter as follows:

Just one foot, two feet, three feet, four; You must measure at the door.

And for each foot you measure tall. Just three cents in the sack let fall.

How few do "end" in even feet. So all the inches you must meet.

And thus when even feet you lack, Two cents an inch drop in the sack.

Mrs. Alcorn tells us that the Centre College quartette, a superior musical organization, has been engaged to make melody for the occasion and which will greatly enhance the delightfulness that the evening is sure to bring.

Everybody is cordially invited.

HAYDEN BRANCHING OUT.—The Paris News says: "Mr. J. W. Hayden, a wealthy merchant of Stanford, has associated himself with the R. P. Dow Wholesale Grocery Co., of this city, and the firm will in the future be known as the Dow-Hayden Grocery Co. Besides operating in this city, the new firm will also run a branch wholesale grocery in Winchester. The two houses will be connected by a private wire. The Winchester house will be managed by Mr. Hayden, assisted by Mr. H. M. Jones, late of the Armour Packing Co., of Chicago. The augmented capital of the Dow-Hayden Co. will enable it to largely increase its volume of business. The main office of the company will be in this city, and all of the buying and banking will be done here. They will have six traveling salesmen out on the road.

Mr. Hayden returned Saturday night from making the deal and tells us that he will spend this week at home winding up his business and go to Winchester next week permanently. His family will remain here during the summer. There seems to be no doubt that Mr. Hayden has struck a good thing and while his friends here are sorry to lose him, they are glad to know he has such bright prospects.

HADES TO PAY.—For the first time since the present owner took charge 25 years ago, the INTERIOR JOURNAL was late in getting out Friday. It went to press about on time, but when 200 or 300 papers had been run off, the new two revolution machine stopped short never to go again, till an absolutely essential part which had snapped like a pipe stem, could be recast and returned. The expert, Mr. Max Steiner, who had put up the press, left at once for his house, the American Type Founders Co., at Cincinnati, to have the damage repaired and the four forms too large to be printed at once on our 33x47 Cottrell drum cylinder, changed to meet the new conditions, had to be worked off two at a time on it, requiring nearly 6,000 impressions and about five hours' time. It was a tough piece of luck, such as might make a sanctification preacher curse a blue streak, but we held our temper as well as possible and wondered afterwards how we got through the many vexations of the day. If the break is repaired in time this issue will be printed on the new press, if not the slow process of printing two forms at a time will have to be repeated. In either event, however, we ask the fervent prayers of the

THE business manager will be at Mr. Vernon next Monday, first day of circuit court, and hopes to meet his old friends and patrons. See him if you want the cheapest and best paper in the State.

AN Indiana man was here last week trying to buy out William Hamilton, the jeweler, but that gentleman knows a good thing and consequently did not sell. The Hoosier offered him $1,200 for his stock and $300 for his good will.

CLOSED.—Prof. M. O. Winfrey's school closed Friday and the professor and wife left yesterday for Glasgow to spend most of the summer. L. R. Hughes and mother will occupy the house they vacated, while their new house is being built.

IN FRANCE.—Mr. Ed Wilkinson has a letter from his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Wilkinson, at New Decatur, Ala., saying that a cablegram from Paris, France, from her husband, who was mysteriously missing, told her of his safe arrival there, but gave no explanation of his sudden departure from home.

30 TO 3.—The Danville "Sophs" can't play ball a little bit. They came up Saturday afternoon in high feather, but returned with heads bowed down. At the end of the sixth inning the score stood 30 to 3 in favor of our boys and the visitors threw up the sponge. The Stanford battery, Harry Higgins and George Florence, as usual, did fine work.

SOMERSET, known to the majority of the patrons of Beasley Bros' livery stable, is no more. He got away from Driver John Sneed in Danville Saturday, and while running, fell and broke one of his front legs in two places, making it necessary to kill him. He was a great horse for long drives and made more hard trips and came in in better shape than any horse in Central Kentucky. This makes three horses the above firm has lost in a month.

THE commencement calendar of Stanford Female College is as follows: May 29, 8 P. M., the Art Reception at the College; Sunday, June 3, at 10:45 A. M., the Anniversary Sermon by Rev. J. R. Savage, of Danville, at the Baptist church; Wednesday, June 6, at 8 P. M., Annual Concert at Walton's Opera House; Thursday, June 7, at 10:30 A. M., in the same building, Commencement Address by Rev. W. H. Ryalls, of Richmond, and conferring degrees on graduates.

SIX years ago Sunday, six inches of snow covered the ground. It was quite cold enough for snow this time, as the mercury went below 50 and the air felt frosty Sunday and yesterday. Old observers say that from May 29 to June 5 is the time when blackberries bloom and should a cold spell happen during the dates mentioned it will be the forerunner for an immense crop of the luscious berries for that year. A good rain fell Friday night, which was worth thousands of dollars to the farmers.

BIG TIME.—Chief Train Dispatcher L. M. Westerfield, who was there, says the Knights of Pythias had a big time at the fair grounds near Pittsburg. Between 2,000 and 3,000 people were on hand, there was abundance to eat, oratory was on tap and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion. At night the splendid new hall was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies and some fine initiatory work done. It was a big day for the K. P.'s and it is to be hoped that much good to the order will result from it.

ABRAHAM.—Five funerals in one household in 17 months is the unusual record in the Abraham family. First Mr. George C. Abraham died at the age of 80, then Miss Marietta, daughter of W. F. Abraham, 22, Miss Sidney Abrahams, aged 87, Miss Kittie, 77, and Saturday Mr. W. F. Abraham, breathing his last of Bright's disease, aged 72, leaving but one of a formerly prominent family, Mrs. Martha Arnold, aged 75. Elder J. G. Livingston preached the funeral sermons of them all, that of the last to die Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, when the body of W. F. Abraham was laid with the rest in the family burying ground on the premises that all were born and raised. The remarks of the preacher, whose friend he was, were both touching and appropriate and then five of his brother Confederates, Judge M. C. Saulley, J. H. Miller, M. S. Peyton, R. G. Collier and G. W. DeBore, consigned the remains to the tomb. Deceased was a member of Capt. T. H. Shanks' company, Grigsby's regiment, and served gallantly through the war for the cause that was lost. After the war he dealt largely in stock and was quite a prominent man in affairs generally. Some 23 years ago he married Mrs. Harriett Buchanan, who bore him one child, Marietta, whose sad death nearly broke his heart and from the effects of which he never recovered. When he was taken ill last winter, he sent for Elder Livingston to whom he made a confession and by whom he was baptized in a box of water made for that purpose. Like the rest of the family, all of whom it will be seen lived to old age, he hung on to life with great tenacity and for months had been at the point of death, which finally came as a relief to his weary

LECTURE.—H. S. Bonsib, of Vincennes, Ind., will deliver a free lecture on prohibition at the Christian church at Hustonville Wednesday night.

WITH his storeroom brightened with new paper and otherwise improved, Mr. Joseph Ginsburg is better able than ever to wait on his big trade.

If this is not what you call a newspaper in every sense you are pretty hard to please. At any rate we are proud of it and hope our patrons feel the same way.

DR. J. C. BARKER, of Hustonville, asks us to state that the Casey County Medical Society will be held at Liberty Thursday, when an interesting program will be carried out.

THERE were 27 white persons examined by Miss Kate Bogie and L. R. Hughes for teachers' certificates Friday and Saturday. The colored applicants will be examined next Friday and Saturday.

THIEVES entered Alex Traylor's house Saturday night and got away with $1.50 and a few other things. They took Mr. Traylor's clothes but were clever enough to leave them in the garden.

THE L. & N. will sell tickets to the Confederate Reunion at Louisville, May 28-30, at one cent a mile, making the round trip fare from here $2.10. Tickets good till June 4th, with privilege of extension to the 10th.

THE glorious news of the democratic victory before the supreme court was the subject of inquiry from this office from points in Casey, Pulaski and Garrard. Our telephone bell was rung almost continually from 1 to 6 P. M. by anxious inquirers.

PRESSES.—We are indebted to the Danville Advocate, Somerset Journal and Corbin Pathfinder for notices that we have a nearly new 33x47 Drum Cylinder Cottrell Press and a 14x22 Gordon used but little for sale. Will other newspapers also favor us with a notice and draw on us for ad libitum?

JAMES FRYE, one of Hustonville's solid merchants, resumes his advertisement after a rest of a few months, during which time he has seen the advantage derived from advertising in a good newspaper. He has painted his store green, named it green, uses green wrapping paper but is not a green merchant by a long shot.

A HERO in war, a statesman in peace and a born orator will lecture at Walton's Opera House, Friday night, for the benefit of the Perryville Battle Field Park. Gen. Gordon, "the officer who was nearest to the great heart of Gen. Robert E. Lee," will tell about the war in which he took so active a part and fill both Confederate and Federal with martial enthusiasm. It is a rare treat to have such a man with us. Be sure to embrace this, perhaps last chance to hear him.

4TH OF JULY.—At the meeting Friday night, the committee on program reported the following order of exercises for the day: Thirteen guns are to be fired at 7 A. M. by artillery. Parade of floats, &c., at 9:30 A. M. Speaking and music by bands and choirs from 10:30 to 12. In the afternoon ballroom ascensions, races of various kinds, contests of local talent in several lines, to conclude with fire works from 8 to 9 P. M. Committee on printing, E. H. Beasley and John S. Baughman; committee on relics and museum, J. C. McClary, Joe F. Waters and A. A. Warren.

BOSLEY O. K.—The alleged shortage in Postmaster Bosley's accounts at Paris shows no dishonesty on his part or that of his assistants. It seems to have been an error in bookkeeping. The amount, $291, subject to a credit of $100, was promptly paid by Mr. Bosley, who rather hastily sent in his resignation, which he afterwards withdrew. In the meantime, so Mr. Bosley tells the Democrat, Senator Deboe had, on the recommendation of George Denny named Sherman Stivers for the place thereupon, Mr. Bosley wrote Senator Deboe a tart letter, taking him to task for trying to throw down a friend, and then Deboe withdrew his recommendation.

LEGAL PAPERS SOLD.—A few issues ago, we published an item that Gold & Bickoff, the junk dealers, had bought a lot of papers, which was evidently from the Casey county clerk's office, as it contained old deeds, marriage licenses, patents, &c., of an ancient nature. The item scared up the clerk, I. C. Dye, and he employed Attorney Geo. E. Stone to recover them. He wrote to Mr. G. B. Cooper to secure J. B. Paxton to that end and when they went to the junk dealers, they wanted $400 to give the papers up, although they had given but $240 for the 800 pounds. They did this on the advice of a Danville attorney, who told them not to surrender them for less than $1,000. They finally, however, after some dickering, agreed to take $10 and that amount was paid. It seems that Jailer Tam Bell, of Casey, not knowing that the papers were valuable, sold them to W. M. Lipe, who, in turn, sold them to Gold & Bickoff. No one is suspected of any wrong intention in the matter and the worst that can be charged is
